BUSINESS DEPENDS UPON CIRCULATION OF MONEY.

"Cash as kept around the house is dead money," says Wallace's Farmer, and the truth of this statement is early recognized when one pauses to study the financial system which controls many of the other systems under which we live.

The Bible says money is the root of all evil. Innumerable arguments have been caused by this statement, but no sensible-minded person has ever questioned the assertion money is not in action is deadweight. This does not mean one is complicating things by saving money or by spending it economically, yet it is possible to save money or to spend money economically and at the same time stimulate the general financial system. As Wallace's Farmer points out—

"Cash deposited in the bank is live money. A dollar of cash deposited in the bank serves as a source of from $5 to $10 of credit. The man who keeps $1,000 around the house is, in effect, preventing five to ten other men from borrowing $1,000 each from the bank. We suspect that there is at least $5,000,000 in the state of Ohio being kept out of circulation by timid hoarders. This $5,000,000, if it were put in the bank, would serve as a source of from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 of credit, and would go a long way toward relieving the present critical situation.

"Never keep more than $50 in cash around the house, and if you can get along with as little as $10, by all means do so. If you have large quantities of money on hand there is always danger of losing it by robbery and fire. But the biggest reason why all surplus money should find its way into the bank as promptly as possible is that the banks are credit factories, and the raw material of the credit which they manufacture is hard cash. Remember that every dollar of cash which you deposit, from $5 to $10 worth of credit. We are satisfied that if only one-half of the money which at present is being hoarded in the United States were deposited with the banks that credit be increased to such an extent that prices would rise by from 5 to 10 per cent. The man who keeps his money about the house is helping to hold prices down."

The argument is sound throughout. Even if a man received no interest on his money he would tide the general condition by depositing in a bank or in some other medium of legitimate financial transactions, and by so doing would not injure himself in the slightest. On the other hand, he would benefit, for mediums of legitimate financial transactions pay interest, afford protection and encourage general profits to the individual. A dollar in action is worth several dollars in stockings or under pillows. Dollars must come out before enmity can return.

CHANGING FASHIONS.

A correspondent, whose communication was published a day or two ago, rather takes exception to the jazz music and dances, now so popular among certain classes of young people, and she refers to the music and dances of her younger days as possibly being models for the people of today.

All one has to do to discover that each generation has its pet antipathy is to read the publication of the past century. The present generation, it would seem, objects to anything the coming generation enjoys and seems also to think that whatever the coming generation favors must, of necessity, be immoral.

One who remembers a half century back, will remember that some of the very dances that the correspondent now approves were, in their time execrated by the passing generation of the time, as highly destructive of civilization and absolutely immoral.

When the dance called the German was first introduced into this country only the very courageous dared to indulge in its pleasures because it was denounced by pulp and in the press as being a most immoral form of recreation.

But, for years, the German was danced with more and more favor until its attractions were worn out and there was a substitute found in more modern dances, and nobody was the worse for it.

So, remembering all the dances and the music that in time past has been denounced and execrated by certain classes of moralists, The Herald indulges the suspicion that even these latter day dances will run their full course, be supplanted by others and that the old world will go right on getting better and better, despite the doleful prophecies of those who insist that just because the young people enjoy themselves in strange and weird dances, everything is going to the demitition bow-wow. —Miami Herald.

FOR THE EAST COAST CANAL.

The east coast people from New Smyrna north are busy on the canal question and they are working day and night to attempt to get up statistics that will prove there are people living along the canal that will ship something on this route. The following from The Daytona Journal would indicate that they are waking up:

"A short time ago questionnaires were sent to every business man in this section, relating to the amount of freight he had shipped and received during 1921. Many of these questionnaires have been filled out and returned, but it is important that not one of them be overlooked.

The bending by United States army engineers on June 25 will determine if the government is to take over the East Coast canal and deepen and improve it. The probable amount of freight shipped and received along the canal route will largely influence the government in its decision as to the value of the proposed improvements, and every ton of freight should be counted, but cannot be counted unless the questionnaires are returned properly filled out.

PUPPET OF WALL STREET OPPOSES FORD'S PROPOSAL

Harding Definitely Is Against Any Decision "For the Present"

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 13.—President Harding is understood to have taken a determined stand yesterday against action by congress at this time on pending bills for disposal of the government's nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

The views of the president, as outlined, it was stated, to Representative Mondell, Wyoming, the republican leader, at the white house, were conveyed to the republican steering committee, charged with the task of framing the legislative program of the house. Members of the committee declined to indicate whether they would recommend action on the bills or let the whole question go over until the December session.

There was no intimation as to how the president regarded the proposal of Henry Ford for lease of the property beyond the statement that he felt the matter was too big to be considered hurriedly and in what members regarded as the closing period of the present congress.

Senate Report Next Week.

Washington, June 13.—Senate agriculture committee investigation of offers for developing the government nitrate and power projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., will be concluded probably next week and work begun on the proposition of reports for the senate, reciting the opinions of the committeemen on the various proposals.

Chairman Norris announced yesterday that the public hearings would be concluded by that time in the proposals made by Henry Ford, the Alabama Power company, Frederick Engstrom, and Charles L. Parsons, as well as those plans designed to bring about completion and operation of the projects by the government itself.

It was his intention, Senator Norris said, to submit his report to the senate before the house began consideration of the bills reported by Representatives McKendzie, Ill., and Wright, democrat, Georgia, recommending acceptance of the Ford proposal in part and as a whole, respectively.

Indications in the senate committee are that its members will be widely separated in their views regarding the Ford Proposal.

ASK LIFE IMPRISONMENT

(By Associated Press)
Columbia, S. C., June 13.—A petition signed by 27 persons, 11 of them jurors who sat in the case, was filed with Go. Wilson G. Harvey yesterday asking that the sentence of death against Jesse Gappins, one of the trio convicted of the murder of William Brazell, Columbia taxi driver, be changed to life imprisonment.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATE SAYS WOMEN LACK ATMOSPHERE IN ADVERTISING

(By Associated Press)
Milwaukee, Wis., June 13.—Women like "what may be termed atmosphere" in advertising, Mrs. Anna D. Olesen, of Cloquet, Minn., candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator from Minnesota, told the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World today.

She said that the modern woman demand not only utility, but also "beauty and comfort in order to have a home atmosphere equal to that of kings and queens a few centuries ago."

"When a merchant pays $500 for an ad in a paper he wants to use the space to the best possible advantage," Mrs. Olesen said. "He may make it 30, 40, 60, 80 or 100 per cent efficient. The cost of the space is the same. It is the advertiser's business to say how it shall be made efficient."

"First, we want courtesy; secondly, we want an appeal to our intelligence and not to our prejudices. Thirdly, we want to get a full and honest value for the price paid. It is a strong point with us, that a firm will refund us the purchase price of anything bought, if it does not prove satisfactory."

"Not all the advertising is in print. Courtesy, promptness of service, forethought of personal comfort such as drinking fountains and rest rooms, have their value. The simple fact of placing a product before the eyes of people on paper will undoubtedly make sale, however."

"The sign that says 'It ain't toothache—it is tobacco' is grotesque. It injures the sense of beauty, art and proportion. Five or six miles from a large city at the turn or bend of the road there is apparently a large book, telling a few sentences the history of the city we are approaching. Though it says very little about the

County Judge Not to Aid Sheriff in Blue Sunday Plans

Tampa, Fla., June 13.—County Judge J. L. Hazard temporarily balked Sheriff Spencer in his efforts to enforce the so-called Sunday blue laws in Hillsborough county yesterday morning when he refused to issue warrants for a number of alleged violators which the sheriff requested. Judge Hazard in a statement said he believed the sheriff was "playing politics" in his effort to enforce the Sunday laws and declined to be used as a "cat's paw" in the matter.

The sheriff immediately went before the county grand jury, and presented his request for warrants with the statement by Judge Hazard. The entire matter now is up to the grand jury. The sheriff refused to make a statement except to say that he was trying to do his duty as an officer in seeing that the laws are all obeyed.

The list of names given the county judge contained those of all theaters, several filling stations and other business concerns. Tampa proper followed the usual Sunday rule of remaining open, with the exception of bootblacks and a few small shops. Summer resorts ran full blast. Notwithstanding reports that the Latin population of West Tampa and Ybor City would defy the sheriff, business houses in those suburbs were closed Sunday.

MRS. SWANSON, SLAYER FATHER, IS FREED.

Sanford, June 13.—Mrs. Norman Swanson was acquitted at the preliminary trial today for the killing of her father, George C. McDougall, on Saturday.

The evidence introduced pointed to self-defense, and the defendant was released. Much excitement was created by the trial today as the deceased was well known here. The court room was packed to capacity during the hearing which was conducted by George A. DeCottis, states attorney and Ed Davis of Orlando.

It is expected that the matter will come up before the grand jury at the next term of court.
